

What is Fleet Management?

Fleet management can mean many things to many different people. At Sandiccliffe Motor Contracts we see fleet management as a way to offer our customers additional support when it comes to running your fleet.

For us, that support can come in all shapes and sizes and doesn't follow a 'one size fits all' approach.

Flexibility

Having the flexibility to choose from a range of fleet management services gives customers the chance to fill gaps where needed.

As every business is different, some may wish to delegate more and more fleet responsibilities to a fleet management company – others may choose to continue managing certain aspects in-house.

Either way, entrusting any aspect of your fleet management to a specialist company can save you valuable time when it comes to administration, give you easier control of your finances and provide peace of mind that your drivers have the support they need when it matters most.

Finding the right fleet management partner

A partner is exactly what you will find in Sandiccliffe Motor Contracts – somebody to work with you and offer support in a trusting, personable and knowledgeable way.

Fleet management is not a one-time transactional process, but is part of an ongoing relationship. Not only will you work closely with your Account Manager to monitor progress but you will also get the opportunity to meet and work with the wider Sandiccliffe Motor Contracts team.

Transitioning operations over to us will be no problem either. Our team will work with you to every step of the way to ensure a smooth handover with minimum disruption.
